The New Orleans Massacre

DETAILS OF THE HORRIBLE SCENE—REBEL RULE ILLUSTRATED

The mails contain accounts of the New Orleans riot with many facts of intense interest, but, strangely enough, no paper gives any idea of the close of the fearful tragedy or of the number of persons killed The reporter for the New Orleans Times, within the Convention building, gives an account of the meeting of the Convention, the disturbance outside and the attack on the building, but of the results of the attack he says only

Bullets and bricks now rained through the hall, and a few were returned, but as the windows opened to the floor little protection could be had from behind which to shoot. The main crowd gathered in the center of the room, but were unable to give a description of the fearfully exciting scene It was little less than a miracle that we escaped unhurt as we fell into the hands of the exasperated crowd upon the stairs, but our notebook and pencil and the club of a friendly policeman [illegible] pistols that were pressing unhealthy against head and breast We got away, and what followed no pen can tell The blood-splashed walls, the masses of clotted gore, the wrecked furniture and other evidences of mob passions tell a fearful story which is sickening now to think of

The reporter in the street for the same paper says

A lull occurs in the firing and the front is now in comparative quiet, The police do not enter, notwithstanding a lull in the fire, and the negroes, who come out at the front door, as well as those who are dropping from the windows, one by one, are attacked and killed—many of them—notwithstanding the efforts of the police To see the negroes mutilated and literally beaten to death as they sought to escape was one of the most horrible pictures it has ever been our ill fortune to witness Policemen among the force fell one after another, as they were either shot by those in the upper stories or bruised and stunned from missiles flung at them One by one the persons inside the building, white as well as black, are, as soon as they appear, carried off by two policemen to the station One negro fell cut and beaten, covered with blood, near the fence Another and another fell, killed while the police were bearing them off. At half past 2 o'clock a white handkerchief flaunted out of an upper window Before that time there had been repeated cries of "We surrender!" "We surrender!" but as soon as the people attempted to enter they were beaten back Crowds hurried to the corner of Common and Dryades streets, and as member after member of the Convention appeared, they were greeted with hooting, yelling and hissing There were many among the crowd who were drunk and unfuriated, and who attacked even policemen who were escorting away prisoners, besides in several in several instances killing the prisoners. Over twenty dead men lay in the street about three o'clock, when we left the scene of the calamity.

At the police station alone it seems "there were twenty eight casualties of importance treated, of whom twenty two were members of the police and six citizens" The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says

It is now understood to have been a concerted plan on the part of the rebels, among whom the President's dispatch was known yesterday morning At the tap of a fire bell the rioters left their business, having lately purchased revolvers, to meet and be led by the police, who went also armed to the teeth All rushed toward the Convention, breaking down the fences on Baronne street, in the rear of the Capitol, which was surrounded by a force of police They then ran into the building, and, while the crowd outside were firing into the windows climbing the stairs inside, their leader shouted, "Rally, boys, rally," and discharged their pistols into the Representative Hall, where were at the time but fifteen Conventioners (it being during recess) within the railing, and about seventy five negroes in the lobby, all of whom, in the hall, prostrated themselves to escape the shots As soon as the pistols of the police were emptied the besieged arose and drove out the assailants with chairs, at the same time barricading the doors Then R. King Cutler called upon all those who had arms to leave the hall, and Captain Burke, the gallant Chief of police deposed by Monroe, went out and fought his way back to Carondelet street, escaping with a shot in the side.

The fury of the besiegers increased, the barricade was broken and pistols were again discharged Then Rev. Mr. Horton, ex army chaplain, who had made the prayer at the opening of the Convention, advanced to the door, and showing a white handkerchief, asked for himself and the rest to surrender He was fired upon, hit by the shot in the forehead, then seized and beaten till he was insensible by the mob and police One after another the members of the Convention in the hall waved their handkerchiefs, protesting that they were unarmed and wished to surrender Yet not a single arrest was made in the hall, but each man, as he came out, hoping to escape the certain fate threatened him if he remained, was seized and brutally handled by the police.

Poor Dostie pleaded for his life He was a Union exile, but by his kind treatment of rebel families in the absence of their protectors, he had endeared himself to many even of his political enemies Besides the sufferers I have named in a former dispatch, Dr Hinton was shot in the head and stabbed in the side, I can as yet give you no estimate of the number killed and wounded which though the riot lasted scarce three hours and seemed to be confined to a few streets, must put the Memphis affair far in the shade The Mayor has issued a proclamation declaring the riots to have been precipitated by the revolutionary faction and calling on the citizens to enroll themselves as extra police At half past six five hundred had enrolled, and the countersign given out to them for the night is "General Hardee"

In the next ward, at the same hospital, I spoke with S S Fish, a brother of the Conventioner, who, as I dispatched yesterday, was wounded and imprisoned This fine young man is a lawyer, and the same who read the Declaration of Independence at the Union celebration on the Fourth He has three shot wounds, in the head, left arm and back, in which the balls still lodge, besides, he has several ugly bruises The following is his own account

"After Rev Mr Horton had been shot while showing a flag of truce and proffering surrender, I made my way out of the door to the landing at the head of the stairs where I met a young man in citizen's dress, whom I asked if we could not surrender He replied, 'No, we intend to kill you all,' and then raised his club to strike me I rushed aside to a policeman who stood near the stairs and begged him to take me prisoner, that my life might be saved He made no reply that I remember of, but pushed me from the landing and forced me to descend the stairs alone. At the bottom I was encountered by two citizens who attacked me with their fists I broke from them, ran to a policeman on the pavement, and begged him to protect me. He knocked me down, with his revolver I, rising much stunned, but conscious, ran toward another policeman whom I saw in the center of the street calling on him to save me. He replied by raising his revolver and taking deliberate aim at me but which of my wounds he gave me I cannot tell, as I fell to the ground for a moment senseless The next I remember I was between two policemen who took me through Common, Carondelet and Lafayette streets to prison All along Common and Carondelet streets respectably dressed, apparently business men, came out of the stores, and, standing on the pavement, cried 'Kill him! kill the d—d Yankee—white nigger!' I was kept in a cell for some time, laid on a plank, unable to get released on bail till Judge Hart came and had me removed to the parlor above, and from there I was brought here"

General Lee General Banks' Chief of Cavalry, and Colonel Warmoth Representatives elect of the Louisiana freedmen, tell us that Shaw, a member of the Convention, and who, as I dispatched yesterday, was shot in the shoulder and imprisoned on returning to his room at the St Charles Hotel last night after being released, was refused admittance by Boyd, the proprietor of the hotel, on the ground that the other guests of the hotel had resolved not to share the same house any longer with a Black Republican

MISSOURI BRANCH U P R. R.

A letter to the Conservative, from Junction City July 14th, says Already the indefatigable surveyors of the Union Pacific Railroad have crossed the Republican river, and are now past this city on their way up the Smoky Hill river, setting the stakes that mark the track the iron horse shall pursue in its race to the Rocky Mountains. The line staked is on the first bottom a few rods east of the city between the Smoky Hill and the town

General Sherman is on his way westward and may be expected in Denver early next week

MINING NEWS.

The Journal of the 4th inst. has the following

Mr Morse, for the Gold Rock Company is sinking on the Mammoth Lode, at the rate of ten feet a week At 100 feet from the surface he has a crevice between walls seven feet wide with five feet of pay dirt worth ten to twenty-five cents a pan He raises by windlass has an engine on the ground which will soon be put up

Captain Cox, for the Benton Company is setting up a large engine and putting in a six inch pump His shaft right at the mouth of Packard's Gulch is 60 feet deep, and has 14 inches solid ore which yielded $103 a ton in gold per Lyon's smelting furnace. The cross courses let in so much water that it has been impossible to mine to advantage, so a pump is being put in

We heard yesterday the result of an assay of Fiske ore made by Mr. B Herman before he left for Swansea The way it was done was to select several pieces of ore so as to average the whole, pound it up fine, divide with a knife into four parts and assay each The average of the four assays made in this way showed the Fiske ore to contain at the rate of 19 ounces of gold and 33 of silver per ton, $316.15, coin value. The Sterling Company are preparing to work their Fiske property The Bobtail is said to have assayed, by this method, more than twice as high as the Fiske

GENERAL BANKS ON THE NEW ORLEANS TRAGEDY —The editor of the New Orleans Times, happening to be in Washington at the time of the great riot at New Orleans, wrote a long statement for the Washington Republican, assuming to define the Louisiana Convention, which evoked from Gen. Banks, under whose military rule the Convention was originally called, the following reply

WASHINGTON (D. C.) August 1, 1866

To the Editor of the National Republican Sir A communication published in your journal this morning, signed William H C King gives an incorrect report of the condition of affairs and the cause of the recent [illegible] in New Orleans Its intemperate tone discloses and defeats its purpose. Nevertheless, knowing the history to which it refers I deem it my duty to say that, in my opinion, it is unjust to the loyal men of Louisiana, and unworthy of credit. The Convention was the ostensible and not the latent cause of the outbreak It was a peaceful and lawful assembly One word from the recognized authorities would have caused its adjournment There were other [illegible] of offense than the convening of this assembly Its members were and had been firm supporters of the Government and decided opponents of its enemies, they were therefore marked men. The wounds inflicted upon the body of Dr Dostie will show by their number and result the intent and animus of his murderers. I knew him well no country ever gave birth to a more unselfish man a truer patriot or a more devoted friend of liberty He and his associates were dangerous men to the enemies of this country The unseen hand that smote him was that which applied the torch to the city of New York, and by which Lincoln met his death, and in this as in all trials of good men the blood of the martyrs will be the sustenance of the Church.

I am, sir respectfully, yours, etc ,

N P BANKS.

The New York News gives the following advice to the rebels with whom it cordially sympathized throughout the war

We say, therefore, that the first thing for the South to do is to secure a foothold in Congress They must get into the arena before they can expect to strike effectively for their cause Let them march in, with flying colors, by virtue of their rights, if possible. If not, let them crowd in, climb in, push in, buy themselves in, or steal in, get unimpeded way they can, so that the next session of Congress finds them there.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 1, 1866.

Army Influence in State Politics.

It is understood that a part of the tactics of the hungry hunters of the crumbs which Nesmith distributes from Johnson's table, will be to try to bring about Nesmith's re-election by representing that all the principal officers of the army and numerous high officials in every department of the Government are extremely anxious to see him returned to Washington as Senator from Oregon. It is said that General Grant has written a letter to Oregon which is shortly to be given to the public, urging that Nesmith be returned. We do not believe that such a letter was ever written, for everybody knows that General Grant has never troubled himself in the least degree with politics since the commencement of his wonderful military career. There is no recorded or unrecorded instance, or even a report, (until now), of his ever having busied himself with other people's affairs. He pays no attention to the politics of his own State; how unlikely is it that he has ever presumed to meddle in Oregon politics? But even if he has written such a letter, the Legislature of Oregon or the members thereof, are under no sort of obligation to pay the least attention or deference to it. The business of the person who is to be chosen United States Senator by our Legislature will be to represent the people of Oregon, and not the army of the United States. We accord, in common with all our loyal countrymen, the highest honors to General Grant; but though we look upon him with admiration and gratitude, we are not yet ready to pass over to him the right to choose our rulers. Some of the gentlemen who are employed in obtaining influences from Washington to re-elect Nesmith, are persons who profess the greatest devotion to State rights and the utmost detestation of any interference by the central authorities in State affairs. Yet what are they doing now but disobeying their own precepts and trying to defeat the will of the people of the State by an artful and unwarrantable use of influences from Washington?

We observe that the Statesman publishes a letter purporting to have been written by General Sheridan to a "friend in Oregon" warmly expressing the hope that Nesmith may be returned as Senator from Oregon." Whether General Sheridan actually wrote the letter is immaterial. But there are passages in it which would either indicate that he never wrote it, or that if he did write it, he is not so well up in the subject of politics as he is military matters. When any one says that "Nesmith did not make a single mistake during the war," he hazards an assertion which it would be a matter of no little difficulty to substantiate. If Nesmith's opposition to the re-election of Mr. Lincoln, his support of McClellan and his persistent, vigorous, antagonism to emancipation were not mistakes, at least in the judgment of the party that supported the war, there is no such thing as error. Again, the opinion that "there is scarcely a man in Congress who does not desire Nesmith's re-election," would be much more correct were it so amended as to declare that there is scarcely a man in Congress who does desire it. There is not a man among all the rebels from the South who are trying to get into Congress, or among the members from the North who wished in their secret hearts that the rebellion would succeed, who does not earnestly hope for Nesmith's re-election. If General Sheridan desires it (which is very doubtful, especially since the fruits of "my policy" have been made so apparent at New Orleans) it is solely on account of an old friendship. But it is of no consequence whether he wishes it or not. General Sheridan is not a citizen of Oregon, was never here except on military duty, and never will be again. For his splendid services in behalf of his country, he is worthy of the highest respect and honor, and we yield to none in admiration of his patriotic and brilliant career; but we do not consider it a duty to applaud when his name is used by wire pulling, bartering, huckstering politicians—men whose only ideas are place and pelf—to compass their own corrupt purposes and accomplish their own selfish ends.

The military arm of the Government is subordinate to, and indeed is the creature of Congress, which in turn is the creature of the people. The will of the people should not be baulked or forestalled by any undue influences exerted by those who are merely their servants. The military profession is, or should be removed from politics for when we come to pass of allowing the leaders of the army to name our rulers, somebody will reach the dictatorship—a calamity which Johnson's usurpations the country narrowly escaped only a little time ago. No member of a State Legislature performs his duty to his State who allows himself to be swayed in the least degree by considerations of the kind which are now being urged by the self-interested supporters of Nesmith. Our Legislature will not forget what its constituents want, and consult the wishes of others as to its action.

Johnson, Seward, Doolittle & Co. have a great deal to say about their work of "restoring peace." With the exception of a battle at Memphis a few months ago in which the Johnson forces achieved a signal victory over quite a number of defenceless negro men, women and children, another battle at New Orleans with similar results, and occasional murders, lynching, etc., of negroes and Union men in various parts of the South, peace has prevailed pretty generally for quite a number of months. Unless the Johnson chivs choose to continue that sort of warfare, we see no reason why peace should not continue without any such Herculean efforts as those boastingly paraded by their authors, Johnson and Seward.

Seward felt himself at home in New York. Gov. Seymour once met a very large circle of "friends" there, who had just completed a little job of killing negroes and burning their houses. Seymour felt at home, too. Wonder if Seward will feel as much at home when he gets to Albany where the State Senate did not invite him.

The Democratic brigade of "flying artillery," officered by O'Meara, Tom Caton, old Weller, etc., has returned from Idaho. These worthies are said to have voted, every one, in the Idaho election. There is no doubt but they were assisted by at least one hundred other "law-abiding Democrats" who voted in the Oregon election less than three months ago.

FIRE LOSSES.—The losses by fire thus far during the year 1866, have been enormous, and they exceed the aggregate losses for any previous year. The reported losses of 1866 amount to $44,256,000, whilst those for the entire year 1865 were $43,139,000, and no previous year reported an aggregate over $30,000,000.

BADLY RECONSTRUCTED.—Danville (Virginia) seems to be badly reconstructed. An internal revenue agent went there to take action against the Mayor of that city for forging revenue stamps. He found such sentiment there against the government and its officers that he was glad to get simply a promise to pay.

Andrew Johnson is the first American, since the formation of the Constitution, who has dared to familiarize the minds of the people with tyranny by hinting at the possibility of his constitutional office being turned into a military dictatorship.

Mr. Waters, the telegraphic operator at Corvallis, died yesterday afternoon after an illness of considerable duration.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 31.

Gen. Sherman on Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—A dispatch received to-day at Gen. Grant's headquarters from Lieut.-Gen. Sherman, dated Fort Laramie, says: The reports of Indian troubles on the plains are greatly exaggerated. The telegraph wires have not been injured, and no party that has been organized has sustained loss. No small bands of Indians are roaming about stealing as represented, and no difficulty is apprehended.

Union State Convention in Michigan.

DETROIT, August 31.—The Republican State Convention to-day nominated Governor Crapo, and adopted resolutions that the work of reconstruction belongs to Congress. That it is the duty of Government to protect Southern Union men against their rebel neighbors. That the spirit of rebellion, crushed in the war, is revived at the ballot-box, and that necessity now exists that loyal men shall bind themselves to resist it.

The ninth resolution reads: That we scout and scorn as unworthy of freemen that political blasphemy which says that this is a white man's government; it is not a white man's government nor a black man's government. It is God's government made for man, and all men who are loyal to it, of whatever race, color or condition shall have under its triumphant and glorious flag all those inalienable rights [which belong to] man. Delegates were appointed to the Philadelphia Convention including Gov. Crapo, Senators Howard, Chandler, Austin, Blair, E. B. Ward, etc.

Financial.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Commercial's money article says: The stock market is dull and singularity to considering the large speculative interest outstanding. There is no disposition to buy or sell. The chief activity is in 5-20's of 1865, which are dealt in largely on speculative account. The whole Government list is subject to active speculation, purchases for shipment and investment being for the moment checked by high quotations. Twenty millions of the temporary loan have been redeemed at the Treasury, and the balance is being rapidly liquidated. Gold is weak. Every announcement of further shipments of coin from England is making the bulls cautious and the apparent disposition among holders is to unload.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Steamer Arizona with dates to the 10th has arrived.

NEWS BY THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Aug. 30, P. M.—Consols closed at 89¼ for money; 5-20's 72½. The Bank of England to-day reduces the rate of discount to 6 per cent.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 30, P. M.—Cotton middling uplands 33¼. Breadstuffs flat, with a downward tendency.

PARIS, Aug. 30, M.—The belief grows here that Maximilian will abdicate the crown of Mexico. Debats, in an editorial to-day, alludes to the honor paid the American Embassy in Russia, and after making the significant inquiry what is the value of the demonstration between the United States and Russia, says: "France has done little to remove old friendship between herself and the United States."

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 29.—Affairs in Turkey are in a very bad state. The revolt in Candia progresses. The inhabitants have asserted their independence of the Turkish Empire. Constantinople is announced in a state of siege.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Louis Kihlmeyer, keeper of a larger beer cellar on the north-east corner of Kearny and Jackson streets, has been held to answer before the county court on charge of assault with a deadly weapon in shooting a pistol at Thos. Chrystal in his saloon.

Ling Hee, a Chinese merchant of this city, and a member of Chuck Sing Tong Co., was found dead in a bath room on Pacific street near Stockton, where he had gone to bathe some two hours before his body was found.

The Democrats are making extensive preparations for a grand mass meeting at Union Hall this evening. They will be addressed by eminent speakers, and a large audience is anticipated.

Judge Pratt has granted Henrietta M. Gibson a divorce from her husband, Geo. L. Gibson. The plaintiff is awarded her share of the community property, the custody of her child, and is allowed to resume her maiden name of Henrietta Moreno.

The Oneaska has gone back to Mare Island to be placed out of commission. Her crew will be distributed among the other war vessels of this station. The Vanderbilt will come down from Mare Island on Monday next and will remain in the harbor as the flag ship of the Pacific squadron, of which Admiral Thatcher is the commander. The Suwanee left for Mazatlan on Thursday, in compliance with instructions from Washington, to look after American interests in Mexican waters.

Gen. McDowell, Prof. [illegible] Blake and other gentlemen, accompanied by an escort of U. S. troops, started yesterday on a tour of exploration to the White Mountains, in the southern portion of the State, below Visalia, for the purpose of exploring and examining the mineral and other resources of a section of country of which nothing is definitely known. The region is supposed to be rich in mineral wealth, and the proposed expedition will probably develop many new and important facts concerning the resources of our State. The party expect to be absent four or five weeks.

Capt. Thos. Hytter, for several years a chief clerk of constable Harding, of the second township, was arrested last evening by detective McCormick, on a charge of embezzlement. For a long time past, sums of money have been frequently missed from the safe, but owing to the want of system in counting and checking off the cash, the deficiencies have generally been attributed to mistakes. The defendant is about sixty years of age, and has borne a good reputation in the community. He was released on $6000 bail. His peculations have been going on for about eighteen months, and will amount in the aggregate to about $2,600. It is said that he was induced to the commission of the robberies by a woman of bad character, whom he has supported for some time, and who took advantage of the weakness often produced by age.

In the case of McCall vs. Gen. McDowell and Captain Douglass, the counsel for plaintiff appeared before the U. S. Circuit Court to-day, Judges Field and Hoffman presiding, and argued against the validity of the transfer of the cause from the State to the U. S. Circuit Court. The action was brought to recover $100,000 damages for false imprisonment alleged to have been sustained by one McCall who was arrested in Mendocino by the military authorities during the rebellion for rejoicing over the assassination of President Lincoln. The defendants petitioned under an Act of Congress for the removal of the cause to the U. S. Court by certiorari from the Circuit Court, which was denied. The plaintiff now contests the validity of the transfer and alleges that the Act of Congress for transferring such cases is invalid.

The steamer Capital last night brought down the largest load of freight ever brought down from Sacramento. It amounts to some 500 tons in dead weight. The up river freighting is now very brisk, to-night's steamer being unable to take all the freight offered.

The Tahitian Brig Maria arrived this morning from Hayhine, Society Islands. The Maria sailed from Papeete to Hyahine on the 7th of July at which time the Spanish fleet [illegible] of the line [illegible], Numancia and frigates Berenguela and Villa de Madrid, and transport ship Marques de La Victoria were in port coaling. The American steamer Uncle Sam arrived in Papeete about the first of July, and it was understood was to sail with the fleet to Manila in a few days. From private sources we learn that cotton and corn planting was going on vigorously in Tahiti, the planting being limited only from lack of labor. At Soares & Co's. plantation the cotton was in fine bearing, the crop promising to be largely in excess of that of last year. This firm had 1,200 men employed and were [illegible] to the neighboring islands to obtain more help. The British ship Malvernas was at Papeete supplying the Spanish fleet with coal.

There is a little more activity in mining stocks to-day, but at still lower prices. From the morning board yesterday Chollar declined $18, Savage $10, Gould & Curry $10, Bullion $4 50, Overman $3 50. Empire Mill advanced $7 50. Cal. Steam Nav. sold at 74.

A JOHNSON CONVENTION IN MINNESOTA.—The Johnson Convention in Minnesota must have been a rich affair, according to the following account of a special correspondent of the Chicago Republican. The Convention met at St. Paul, July 31st:

It was the oddest collection of Democratic fossils which has been gathered in this city since the days of Buchanan and Pierce. But one Union man appeared. Among the delegates to Philadelphia were Dan. Norton and Henry M. Rice. Dan. Norton's course in the Senate was indorsed, members strongly approving it. A resolution offered by General W. A. Gorman, to the effect that they did not expect to see in the Philadelphia Convention any persons of past or present disloyalty to the Union, created a lively sensation. Gorman defended his position, and said that unless Southern rebels and Northern Copperheads were excluded it would be fatal to the Democratic party, and said if his resolutions were not adopted he would desert the party. A general squabble then ensued, and it was with difficulty the small meeting could be prevented from breaking up in a row. William P. Murry said it was a d—d humbug. "I indorse that," said John B. Brisbin. Another prominent Democrat remarked it was the most ridiculous farce he ever saw. So ends the first Johnson meeting in Minnesota.

POLITICAL LITERATURE—THE HERALD.—In the leader of the Herald, on Sunday last, the following chaste and elegant phrases and terms are found; the article is devoted exclusively to the benefit of the recent Methodist Conference and the editor of the Advocate: "Political religion;" "Judas Iscariot;" "mercenary ministers;" "a conference of loyal politicians;" "a burlesque upon the Christian religion;" "a political bigot;" "an unscrupulous partisan;" "an habitual liar;" "under the cloak of religion;" "the infamous end of his vocation;" "a leader of faction and fanaticism;" "hypocritical pretense;" "a lying, canting, hypocritical pretender to holy orders!"

If a word of comment on the above is necessary, we quote a single sentence from the same sheet, of the 25th August:

"Scurrilous epithets invariably betray in those who use them, vulgar instincts, low breeding and a base cause, and are uniformly the accompaniments of falsehood!"—Herald.

The reader will make up his own judgment in the premises.—Advocate.

Bro. Benson is ahead—decidedly. How are you, Beriah?

A MONUMENT as big as the grand Pyramid might be built of the teeth that have been ruined by neglect. Shall this still go on in face of the great fact that Sozodont is a certain preventive of dental decay?

IT IS DECIDED EVERY DAY that the VERY LATEST STYLE and BEST CLOTHING is sold at KOHN & FISHEL'S No. 111 Front Street. From the very fact that they have the LARGEST AND BEST STOCK IN THE CITY, it is to everybody's benefit to give them a call.

AUTUMNAL SHOWER.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 69 First street, would respectfully announce, that the present refreshing, beautiful shower of rain does not at all prevent them from taking those ELEGANT PHOTOGRAPHS, or, in fact, any kind of FIRST CLASS PICTURE. This GALLERY is noted for its superb work even during the most unfavorable weather.

Out of the Crook or Propriety.—The Sacramento [illegible] gives what purports to be "an official table of [illegible] from Star City, Nevada, to Boise City, Idaho, [illegible] by General Halleck. The total dis[illegible] 385 32 miles. Whatever may be said [illegible] as a route by which the mining regions [illegible] are to be supplied, it cannot be said but that General Halleck has taken a part in the subject which [illegible] to laugh the idle and narrow notion that Or[illegible] [illegible] entitled to any respect from the General [illegible]. That our State has been injured [illegible] account of the course pursued by General Halleck since [illegible] has been placed upon the Pacific coast, is quite appa[illegible] [illegible] to look upon his acts here much [illegible] as shown by Mr Swinton in his critical [illegible] of operations in Virginia, from the commence[illegible] of the war, which is reviewed at length in the North American Review. The reviewer of this [illegible] the more we know of the history of the war [illegible] one conviction that General Halleck's [illegible], however good his intentions may [illegible] all for evil." It is unfortunate for the American people that men such as Halleck are placed in [illegible] of the General Government to direct any [illegible] that part of the Pacific slope in [illegible] Oregon is [illegible]. Letter from Washington Territory

Boisforte, Lewis Co., Aug 26, 1866

Editor Oregonian:

I feel impressed to write for your columns a few words for the benefit of everybody generally, and the citizens of this place especially. I find the citizens and postmasters of Oregon about as well posted up as to our geographical whereabouts, as the Englishman who enquired whether the Philadelphia river was in the State of Portland or New Orleans. The fact is, we are laboring under a postal embarrassment, growing out of this ignorance of our locality, which is truly perplexing. The name of our postoffice is unluckily Boisforte which is easily mistaken by the careless for Fort Boise, consequently many of our letters are sent to that place, and we never get them until they are returned from the dead letter office.

Letters fully directed to this office are simply endorsed "Boisforte," and it is easy to imagine it Fort Boise, and somehow it happens that many of them go that way. I impute no malice to any one, but I only suppose that everybody don't know that Boisforte is the name of a beautiful little prairie, cozily nestling among the lofty highlands of the Columbia river, and lovingly enfolded in the embrace of two of the largest eastern branches of the Chehalis river, that encircle it on all sides. This lovely spot is, by Government survey, just twenty four miles from Oak Point, on the Columbia river, sixty miles west of the military road leading from Monticello to Steilacoom. For beauty and fertility, and enterprise of its inhabitants it has no compeer. It is in fact the "Howell's Prairie" of Washington Territory. The soil of this prairie is a deep alluvium, producing most bountifully all that labor and care can realize in Oregon or California. Around this garden of nature are small prairies, openings, brush and timber lands in abundance, where farms can be opened at a small expense. To those wanting new farms, probably no spot on the Pacific coast offers so large inducements to come. I am [illegible] feel that its quiet seclusion is the only reason why it has not been long settled up by hundreds of enterprising families, and the postmasters over in Oregon have not found out that Boisforte is right here, and not in Idaho Territory. As the State Agricultural Fair is soon to coming off in Oregon, I would avail myself of the opportunity to challenge the whole State of Oregon to beat or equal the following item of good living. On this prairie, Judge Stillman is raising pieplant of the following dimensions. By actual measurement, many of the leaves in July and August, spanned three feet and four inches in length and three feet in width, presenting a superfices of more than a thousand square inches. Circumference of stem, six inches, length, two feet. This was raised without extra effort, and when Web foot beats it the Judge will try again. Yours &c

Bronchitis.—From Mr C H Gardener, Principal of the Rutgers Female Institute, New York, May 14, 1866. "I have been afflicted with Bronchitis during the past winter, and found no relief until I found your Troches." "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, give prompt relief in Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases and are for sale throughout the United States and most foreign countries.

A Card.

Editor Oregonian: Sir—It is indeed humiliating to descend into the groveling depths of revolting depravity, and drag from the filth [illegible] dregs of low society, a loathsome specimen of humanity; but noticing a cowardly attack in your columns, the Herald, which I have always regarded as at least among the list of [illegible] journals, I cannot [illegible] a short reply. Unfortunately, the author has a smattering of ordinary talent which is sadly perverted, and his existence is a burning shame to the race passed into second childhood, a dead-head sucker at the back door of cheap whisky mills, it is not to be wondered at, that he is the pliant and willing tool of his [illegible] but that a journal that asks patronage among [illegible] people, should thus wantonly drag before the public ladies occupying the highest social positions, is an outrage to the community, and a crime against [illegible] humanity.

There were [illegible] hances before the Honorable Council, [illegible] by gentlemen. How much more noble it would have been to attack those who are able to repel. But this cowardly [illegible] from a miserable poltroon, though even it be [illegible] by that farce on modern literature, the Herald, will not enhance their cause, I opine.

Yours very [illegible] fully,
Estyle.

A Word to the Aged.—In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay, can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged
DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS
As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effect. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, acts like a charm upon the spirits. For dyspepsia, oppression after eating bilious cholic, wind cholic, spasms of the stomach, sick or nervous head-ache, chills and fever, prostration and all the complaints special to the feebler sex, the Bitters are earnestly recommended by thousands who have witnessed their superior efficacy in such cases. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

THE LATEST STYLE OF FINE ART PICTURES.

The attention of the public is invited to the fact that JOSEPH BUCHTEL'S PIONEER GALLERY, corner of First and Morrison streets, Portland Oregon, is the only place in this State where those beautiful SUN PEARLS are produced in a manner equal to the art in San Francisco, New York or European cities. Having employed the services of the best Operator upon the Pacific Coast Mr. Bonnasco Policarpo of Paris, late of San Francisco, the undersigned is better prepared than any other Gallery to furnish all styles of Pictures known to the Art. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, which will be sufficient to convince the most skeptical of the truth of the abovestatements. Critics are invited to call.

SOMETHING NEW!

[illegible] NEW [illegible] LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided, it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than one cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of [illegible], corner of Morrison and First streets.

200 KEGS NEWS INK, IN 50 LB KEGS
For sale by HENRY L. PITTOCK
No. 5 Washington street, Portland

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk is an impostor. Any person selling any other material [illegible] whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M.,
Aug. 31st, 1866.

Large accessions have been made to our stock of merchandise the week past. These embrace in part, generally, much of an imported class of goods, while assortments of other kinds have been poured in upon us filling the markets to repletion with every grade and assortment. The demand for goods east of the mountains, in every direction, has been unprecedentedly large, and trade is very much greater in that direction than was expected. The mining interests are proving very productive, and the inducements held out by the opposition steamers will account for the lively state of business. The fear that trade would be overdone in consequence of the opposition of the Anchor Line, is being greatly obliterated. The fact is being more apparent that this cannot be so. There is a vast extent of country, thickly populated, which must be supplied, and other routes of transportation are passed by, in furnishing that demand, as the temptation to ship by Portland at current rates of freight is very great. Our State is not by any means in a condition of industrial decay on account of the opposition, and we hold further that the merchants of Portland are selling no less goods from the same cause, but really are doing all that could be expected under any circumstances.

The present season has been so prosperous for us, that we hope it will not be allowed to pass entirely away without an earnest effort being made to place Portland in direct communication with Eastern supply ports. At a time when the trade of our State was in its infancy there may have been good reasons for making San Francisco the distributing point for the business of the whole coast, but now that seven-eighths of all the merchandise disposed of in San Francisco for use in the interior, is intended for consumption in a region which should naturally draw its supplies through Portland, it becomes little short of suicide to continue a policy which originated in our weakness. This is clearly enough the market in which the dealers of Western and Southern Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, if not Northern Utah, should purchase their merchandise, but they cannot do so, except to a limited extent, so long as we ourselves continue to pay the tribute we do to California. We should prepare to offer inducements at least as great as are presented elsewhere. To do this, it is necessary that we should revolutionize the present system of trade. The jobbing trade of the whole upper country is within our grasp, and all that is necessary to secure it is to adopt some means whereby we shall be able to avoid paying heavy tribute to San Francisco. True, we have a few importers, but not enough. San Francisco has been slow and very short sighted, as a whole. Her policy has been in the hands of a few narrow-minded, selfish merchants, who have acted upon the absurd maxim that to enrich themselves, they must pursue a course to the detriment of Oregon—now her best customer. She seems to have been unfortunate in her efforts to boost Victoria, and the Chico route, to the impoverishment of Portland, and the whole people of the "Northern mines," whom she now depends upon for her main support while she looks abroad at the fate of her [illegible]. What the politicians and chicanery of the Pacific coast delegation in Congress for years past, until 1865, left undone, San Francisco has attempted to do as against the interests of our commonwealth, and yet, with the developments we have made under these unfavorable circumstances, it cannot be said but that we are insignificant, in comparison to what may be looked upon two years hence. If we fail to double our developments the next two years, it will be from a want of capital, and not from any want of resources, lying inert, as we verily believe that Oregon contains more native material in this respect than any other six States of the Union.

The California Steam Navigation Co. gave notice of a stockholder's meeting to consider the increase of capital from $2,500 000 to 5,000,000, and to issue the certificates of stock in shares of $100 [illegible] of 1,000. The meeting will be held at the office of the Company on Saturday, September 22d, at 2 P. M.

In reference to the late rumored withdrawal of the steamship Montana from the trade of Oregon, and to show that there are some people in California who esteem the Anchor Line, we quote the following from the Call:

"It was rumored up the street yesterday, that the steamship Montana, of the Anchor Line, running between this city and Portland, Oregon, had been [illegible] from off the route and would discontinue her trips, after accomplishing this [illegible]. We are [illegible] by those who know, that the [illegible] is the [illegible] of the case, and that the Idaho, the companion of the Montana, will be here within ninety days, to [illegible] the line. The Montana has cleared for her [illegible] $25,000 in five months, which is certainly [illegible] her [illegible] to continue her upon the route. The [illegible] trade has [illegible] two-fold [illegible] six months, and every steamship has been crowded with freight for three months [illegible] regions of the northwest. This ship is the [illegible] favorite, for she [illegible] out of every three passengers going from this city to Portland. The Anchor Line is [illegible] established, and will [illegible], as heretofore, a benefit to the people."

We have nothing to [illegible] financial operations. The telegraph [illegible] familiar with monetary subjects of San Francisco and [illegible] cities, and the great want of capital in Oregon [illegible] business [illegible] here [illegible] we can have but about one [illegible]: Money light, at the usual rates. It is hoped that the Oregon usury law will receive some consideration at the approaching session of the legislature, but we hear of no [illegible] being made to bring about [illegible] results from such legislation as we are informed is very essential for our prosperity.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, August 31, 1866.

Aside from an improved tone in the fruit market, we hear of nothing new in the Domestic Produce line. Buyers are paying $1@$1 25 ℔ box for apples, and a fair shipment was made to Victoria at those rates, paying $6 per ton freight. Pears are jobbing at 5 cts. ℔ lb., Plums, 6@9 cts. At the present rates of freight to San Francisco, it is a little surprising that our people are not shipping wheat. They could certainly enter the San Francisco market on an equal footing with the California farmer, in Napa, Sacramento, and vallies so far away. With no prospective demand for the crop of Oregon, we do not hesitate to make the recommendation that this be done. Prices are nominal for all kinds of produce. Our quotations may be considered the highest prices at which articles will sell. We quote:
